The Day After Marriage.

The departure of a son from beneath the paternal roof does not present any specia-cle of desolution. Masculine life has, from infancy, un individuality and independence, an egotism, so to say, which is essen tially wanting in female existence. When a son abandons his parents to create for himself a separate interest, this separation tual relations. A man marries, and still retains his friendship, his habits, and his final affections. Nothing has changed in his life; it is only an additional tie. His de-parture consequently is a mere separation, while the departure of a young girl to be-come a wife in a few hours is a real desertion—desertion with ail its duties und feelings still fresh about it. In one word, the son is a capling which has always grown apart from the trank, while the daughter has, on the contrary, formed an essential portion of it, and to detach her from her place is to mutilate the tree itself. You have surrounded her youth with na-epeakable tenderness—the exhaustiess tenderness of your paternal hearts, and she, in return, has appeared to pour forth upon you both an equally inexhaustible gratitude; you loved her beyond all the world, and she ecemed to you with a proportion-ate day, a man arrives, invited and welcomed by yourselves, and this man of your own choice carries off to his domestic cyric your gentie dove, far from the soft neet which your love had made for her and to which hers had clung. On the morrow you look around you, you listen, you wait, you seek for something which you cannot

(From the Richmond Enquirer, Dec. 12.)

We are much pleased with the recommendations of the Gov mor upon the subject of negro conscript! v. He writes to the Lagislature like a true Virginian, like a sesointe maniform in the purpose of liberty, and resolved not to permit any question of property to stand between his c. antry and her liberties. The Legisla ure of Virginis his now the opportunity of spala testifying the musiterable surpose of the State to be forever free from Yankee domination, not in resolution of words, but in acts of such file, which shall numbershably show to the world tha firmness and resolution of the prople. It would be peculiarly proper, for the Lagislature to tender in behalf of the prop's of Virginis her quota of slaves to the Confederate Governman, the State assuming to pay all compensation that may be dem need.

Not stopping to inquire "is it necessary," "has the time com" but, anticipating the necessary but does come. This paper has fully and deliberately committed isolf to the earnest advecacy of this measure. Accused solely by the wish to prome te the can e. and stopped by no miserable questions of "time" or "necessary," or by the second of the inn and toly, "proporty," and "degrading our seel lers to the level of negroes," we shall continue to urgo this matter as tight in principle, uroper for our cause, and last to our men. Virginia occupies a position aming her Canfedrate sisters which renders her action of great weight and importance. If she hold back in this warher negroes, and exhibits the least irresolution between the lead. be ween Ir perty a d liberty, another State will take the lead.

XXXVIIIth Congress-Second Session WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. SENATE Mr. Colema: presented a memorial of Har-per & Bros. rud other publishers, praying for the modifications of the laws relative to carry-the motifications of the laws relative to carrying periodicals in mails.

Mr. Sherman reported the House bill taxing whisky, and asked immediate action on it. He said the bill proposed to anticipate additional tax by making its operation commence January 1st, instead of the lat of February. It was objected that such a charge of lectification indicated instability in Congress. It was to effect taking o judgment on manufacturers and seriously intertering with their regular arragements. On the other hand it was essented that manufacturers of welsky would be greatly increased if the bill should not pass and that on immense quantity would be made upon which only a dollar would be paid.

Mr. McDouguil objected that it would inter-

Mr. Farwell seserted that nextect to tax whisky had already deprived the country of more than enough to may up the ermy to date.

On motion of Mr. Summer, the Sumits pro-ceded to the consideration of the resolution or repeal the reciprocity trasty. Mr. Summer—I had intended on the consideration of this proposition to revise the whole subject, and to exhibit at length the history of the reciprocity trasty; but ofter the debate of a few days ago, and considering the apparent unanimity in the Senate, I have felt unwilling to occupy the time by any protracted remarks.

They are not needed. The people of the United States have been uneasy under the reciprocity treaty for several years. I may say that almost from its date there was a reflect the process of the united States have been uneasy under the reciprocity treaty for several years. I may say that almost from its date there was a reflect of Paris, to be charge d'affaires; Commander Thomas of the most advantage to Canada. that it was of the most advantage to Canada.
This feeling of late ripened into conviction.
At the name time the extremelse of the present was requiring so large an expanditure, using it arreasonable for the Uelted Sintes to conitions a treaty by which the resources of the country suffer. It is such checkershas as there which brought the public mind to the present position. The manifeshie feeling wenifested towards the United States by Canada had little it finesce in the question—unless, perhaps, they may have compelled us to look at it in the light of reason rather than sentiment. The question of the fisheries is lackuded in this treaty. Some arrangement, like by reciprocal legislation of further necessitive can be made on this meanty and applicable to the fiscal very supportions, applicable to the fiscal very supportions.

Mr. Schenck said that the Committee on Military Affairs was gathering information on the subject of barbarous treatment of our prisoners, and expected to report soor; fassily
the House adopted a resolution, that if not incompatible with public interests all communmications in reference to exchange prisoners not beretofore published be communicated to the House by the Secretary of War.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill to supply over ninety millions dollars deficiency in the appropriations for the present fises I war.

On motion of Mr. Aucona, it was resolved that the Committee on Ways and Means be requested to inquire into the expediency of reducing or suspending the impost duty on printing paper, and they be requested to report by bill or otherwise at an early day.

On motion of Mr. Coffroth, the Committee on Military Affairs was instructed to inquire

During a brief discussion on the appropriations for printing paper for the floreroment. Printing Bureen, Mr. Rice, of Mose, said that there was no oridence to show that the paper manufacturers have combined to advance the price of paper. He had heard it charged, hat had never got at the substantial facts. One reason for high prices was the scarcity and tax on raw material.

Mr. Washburne said, the duty on paper is robibitory. He had understood from the Mr. Weshborne said, the duty on paper is prohibitory. He had understood from the heat authority that there is a combination of paper manufacturers, who control the whole matter, and have brought up the price from 12 and 15 to 25 and 25 cents a pound. That there has been such an advance on paper geatlemen do not deny.

Mr. Dawes said this resulted in part from the tax or new material.

Mr. Daves and the reasses in part from the tox on raw matterial.

Mr. Washbuss resuming, said, he knew e case where one half of a paper mill in lilitods was offered for sain for $1,500, because it will pay an interest of 40 per cent. Tax on paper is a tax on knowledge and light, and will destroy mean newspapers of the country.

WEONESDAY EVENISA, December 21st, 134, In our general produce markets to-day there was but ittle doing, the weather being so disagreeable as to alcost antirely check out-door business. Flour rem dull but firm, with only a retail demand to supply the wants of oily bakers and retail grocers. Speculators are not yet inclined to take hold to any extent, being satisfied that prices will rule lower, while shippers are ruled entirely out of the market, as prices here are relatively higher than at the East. The sales to-day were small, not exceeding 200 bbls, at our quotations to be found below. Owing to the light receipts wheat remains firm at $1 $5 to $1 90 for rad and $1 95 to $2 for white, the outside being the ruling figures for choice lots. There is considerable inquiry for new corn, with only small arrivals. Sales were made to-day at 61 05 for our and 61 10 to 61 13 for shelled from wegons. Oats are firm and nuchanged. In groceries there was nothing doing outside of a city retail trade. The market remains firm and prices ara unchanged,

Hoss are firm, with a demand in excess of the recalpts and prious remain steady, with sales to-day of 800 head at the grow. The packing season around the falls is about closed, all the houses having closed, with the aveption of O. W. Thomas & Co., who had some 600 head peas this svening, which will be slaughtered Thursday. The total number killed around the falls so far is 90,497. A few small lots of hogs are expected 1st to arrive, which will swell the total number killed sround the falls to about 92,000 head. In provisions there is not little doing, there being no disposition on the part of either buyers or sellers to operate. The only sale reported to-day was in tierces ard at 23c. The following are the quotations given by our bas or gold and Government securities up to 2 o'clock this

Death in the Wall.

The People's Journal of Health has an article with this fearful title, which is an attack on wall paper. The writer says: A good clean paper is certainly more pleasant to the eye than a fissured and have been followed, that entire and fall estisfaction has smutty wall, whose scales of lime are constantly peeling off and soiling every gar-ment which comes in contact with it. And if a proper selection is made, and there be no other lining of similar stuff beneath, it it is not only more pleasant to the sense but is almost equal to the whitened wall. But here is the difficulty. As a general rule one coat of paper is put on over another, as the last gets too much soiled to look well, until several layers cover the original surface, thus often producing an actual cause

A few years since we occupied a house built some twenty years before, in the old English style, strong and solid, so that it seemed almost as good as, or better even, than new. We were gravely told that one room in it had seemed to be fatal to its occupants, hence for several years it had stood vacant. One of the first things which reecived attention was this ill-reputed apart-ment. It was a north room, so situated that a few slanting rays of sunlight peered into a corner of it for a short time only a portion of the year, entirely avoiding it for months together. Well, here surely was one cause of its unhealthfulness, but not enough. After the cobwebs were duly brushed out we searched further. A goodsized fireplace and two large windows af-forded entirely sufficient chance for ventilation, so we could not look there for the

The walls next received attention. They were covered with a heavy velvety green paper; but not only this, for upon peeling off a small section with a knife, another green layer was found beneath it, and beneath this another, and yet another. The mystery was solved. The cause of the evil was evident. Nothing would have induced us to sleep in that apartment. None could tell how much of the clements of disease that thickly papered wall had retained. None knew how much of death there was in the wall! It seemed as if it gave out a positively sickening odor, now, and its cntire removal speedily followed. Thereaf-ter, though not so desirable as some others, it ceased to have any hidden dangers or terrors, lurking to polson the fountain of paper without green colors, especially those heavy greens which so please the eye, for they contain an active poison, inimical to life, and it is always improper to place one layer of paper over another. Better submit to the dirt and annoyance of having the last and soiled paper entirely removed. than expose yourselves to the chances of disease and death, through its retention.

Daughter-full Houses.

Oh! my heart is more in earnest than you think; the parents anger me who are soulbrokers; the daughters sadden me, who are made slaves—Negresses. Ah, is it wonderful that these, who in their West Indian market place, must dance, laugh, speak, sing, till some lord of a plantation take them home with him-that these, I sav. should be as slavishly treated, as they are sold and bought? It poor lambe! And yet ye, too, are as bad as your sale-mothers and sale-fathers. - What is one to do with his enthusiasm for your sex, when one travels through German towns, where every heaviest pursed, every longest tilled individual, were he second cousin to the Devil himself, can point with his finger to thirty houses, and say, "I know not, shall it be from the pearl-colored, or the nut-brown, or the steel-green house, that I wed; open to customers are they all!' How, my girls, is your heart so little worth that you cut it, like old clothes, after any fashion, to fit any breast; and does it wax or shrink, then, like a Chinese ball, to fit itself into the ball-mould and marriage-ring case of any male heart whatever? "Well, it must, unless we sit at home and grow old maids," answer they; whom I will not answer, but turn scornfully away from them to address that same old maid in these words: Forsaken, but patient one! misknown and mistreated! think not of the trial when thou hadst hopes of a better than the present are, and repent the noble pride of thy heart, never! It is not always our duty to marry, but it is always our duty to abide by right, not to purchase happiness by loss by right, not to purchase happiness by loss of honor, not to avoid unweddedness by untruthfulness. Lonely, unadmired heroine! in thy last hour, when all life and the bygone possessions and scaffoldings of life shall crumble in pieces, ready to fall down; in that hour thou wilt look back on thy untenanted life; no children, no husband, no wet eyes will be there, but in the empty dusk, one high, pure, angelic, smiling, beaming figure, Godlike and mounting to the Godlike, will hover and beckon thee to mount with her-mount thou with her, the figure is thy virtue.
